RURAL MAIL BOX IMPROV'MT WK.

The post office department has designated the first week in May as National Mail Box Improvement week. Mrs. Glenn W. Folkers, national secretary of the ladies auxiliary to the National Rural Letter Carriers' association is announcing suggestions for improvements in the rural mail boxes.

If the boxes are taken care of as suggested they will present a neat appearance and aid in more efficient service. They should be placed on a substantial support with the base of the box about 42 inches from the ground, the box approximately seven feet from the edge of the pavement or roadway.

The name of the patron should be painted on the box in black letters large enough to be read easily. A red flag should be put on the end of the box to notify the carrier of mail to be sent. If the box does not open and close easily fix the door or lid, or purchase the new modern design box of the end opening type and large enough to receive all your mail including parcel post.

The approach to the box should be free of weeds and debris. Ruts should be filled. The cooperation of all rural mail patrons will be sincerely appreciated by your rural mail carrier.

Famous Explorer to Show Hudson Bay
Movies at Palos Pk.

By JOHN S. BOHNE

An outstanding event of the Spring season will take place May 5, when Mr. C. J. Albrecht, noted adventurer and explorer, presents his colored movie "Hudson Bay Adventures." It will be given in the Palos Park village hall, 123rd and 89th avenue at 8:00 p.m. He is appearing in Palos Park under the sponsorship of the Community Center Foundation and proceeds will go into the Craft Shop fund.

Besides being an explorer, Mr. Albrecht is a big game hunter, wild animal sculptor, zoologist and photographer. His 28 expeditions have taken him from tropical America to Arctic Alaska, to Siberia, to the African jungles. He is a crack shot, not only killing big game with the rifle, but with the bow and arrow also. As a sculptor he has constructed many famous museum habitat groups. His "African Water Hole." At the Chicago Field Museum of Natural History, is the world's largest animal group. As a photographer, he has won international prizes for wild life photography.

Mr. Albrecht is eminently qualified to tell the unusual story behind the dramatic scenes of his pictorial saga of the Far North. His vivid descriptions are as real as nature itself.

He has taken many audiences of this breathtaking adventure in the land of Northern Lights, George F. Pierrot, managing director of World Adventure Series (Detroit Institute of Arts), recently sent a letter to Mr. Albrecht, as follows:

"Thanks a lot for that superb Hudson Bay show. It gave us a perfect day. As I told you, the response to your pictures on television was the best yet, (part of the film was shown on TV before this show.) We took telephone orders as fast as we could handle them, and the phone was still ringing, fifteen minutes after the curtain went up. As you know, we had a sell-out, overflowing into the orchestra pit."

Already I've written several letters recommending the show. The color pictures are clear and photographed with great skill and imagination. They have variety, pace, human interest, humor and information—just about every ingredient pictures should possess. I'm sure that the spontaneous applause you drew throughout the lecture, and the way the crowd made you prolong your question and answer session, must have shown you how well the lecture was going over. We have had dozens of requests to bring you back."

Hudson Bay Adventure was filmed 2,000 miles north of Chicago, on Hudson Bay proper, in the region of Churchill (Manitoba), in 1946 by Mr. Albrecht. This colored movie was made under the hardships of blinding blizzards and subzero weather of 61 degrees below zero. It shows all the phenomena of the far north, from swirling blizzards to the Northern Lights. It captures all the dark beauty, mystery and terror of a strange land few people have seen.

His main reason for going north was to photograph the great caribou migration. In the movie, you will see one of the most amazing sights ever seen by man—you will follow the great caribou herd, tens of thousands of them, on a 300 mile migration across the tundra.

But there are many more strange sights for you to behold in the film. You will see what the northern winter is like in an Arctic trapper's cabin. You will trail a howling wolf pack, and find tragedy when you catch up with them. You will find the trackless Barrens have a mystic lure of their own. Here you travel by dog-team with Indian trappers, helping them run their lines and catch and cure the precious pelts. You photograph other beaver, ermine, mink and fox. Few sights can equal the strange beauty of sitting around campfire in the moonlight with the Northern Lights crackling above you. You will spend gay and noisy evenings at frontier Hudson Bay trading posts. And you will battle blinding blizzards—in which you get hopelessly lost. But the homing instinct of the faithful husky dog teams gave you from death in the 61 degree below zero weather. The wastes of Canada's sub-Arctic are peopled by all manners of interesting characters. You will meet a

Break down Slows Newspaper Output

This is the second week in succession that we have had a breakdown of the newspaper press. Last week Wednesday when we were but halfway through the printing of the large edition, a serious break occurred which took two men working many hours each day, until Saturday night to get it running again.

After testing it thoroughly, the first run of this issue was started and in about a half hour, there was another break. It seems the first break down sheared off a pin which was hidden in the inside of the mechanism. Another 12 hours was lost in repairing that and getting it running again.

Watch for the announcement of a new press!

He was crossing the street with the green light, and when half way across the street he was knocked to the pavement by a car driven by Harold J. Thieben, 33, of 105 Nicholson street, Joliet. Thieben made a left turn and stated because of the heavy rain he did not see Mr. Cooper. He stopped at once, pedestrians came to his aid and officers Findlay and Louis Hildebrand arrived at once also. They removed him in the ambulance to St. Joseph's hospital at once, and was soon released.

Upon arriving at home, Mrs. Cooper called Dr. E. G. McMahon who found Mr. Cooper had received several broken ribs, besides many bruises on his body, arm and hand. He was confined to his bed for several days, and is not able to get around due to soreness.

Mr. Thieben paid a fine of $7.50 on charge of failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

The water reached the front of the New Lenox lumber and hardware company store. The residents living in the southeast section of Brookwood had water up to the doors of their houses but none reported that water entered that way. Many of the basements were flooded. LETTERS TO
THE EDITOR

The News-Bulletin,
Dear Sir:

Please add my name to your subscription list at $2.50 per year. Inclosed is money order for that amount.

I enjoy reading your paper very much, but I wish you could get a movie calendar for the shows in Homewood and Chicago Heights. The city papers do not all carry them and a person has to keep these schedules in their mind. I think a great many people would get a lot of service from these movie programs.

Realizing the great need for providing more adequate facilities, the Orland High school board has been seeking ways in which this objective might be obtained.

Because of recent school legislation; much of the area around Orland is also in need of providing facilities for high school education. This fact has been the basis of numerous conferences between the Orland High school board and other boards from nearby areas. As a result of these conferences, it seems apparent that the Palos Community High school district is the only one interested in a possible consolidation with the Orland district at this time.

The combined area would have a total assessed valuation of $17,075,000 which is believed to be adequate for a program of this kind.

Some of the area south and east of Orland are desirous of participating in the effort towards a new high school if the consolidation of these areas becomes a fact. The additional territory would materially increase the possibility of establishing and maintaining a high school with varied courses, and a good all around educational program.

Everyone in the Orland High School District should understand the problem which now exists and give some time and thought to the possible solution as the final decision will be with the people.

In a recent joint meeting, the Orland and Palos boards established a Public Relations committee to assist in appraising the people of the effort being made toward providing a better school. Inquiries are solicited and may be directed toward either High School Board or their Public Relations committee, whose names are: Mrs. C. H. Retzke and Mrs. Cecil Bullak, Palos Park and Mrs. Stewart Loebe and Mrs. Robert Rich, Orland Park.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Lefty Needs Glasses

Polio of the Soul

By GEORGE PECK

The very sound of the word "Polio" brings a shudder of fear to every American parent—because that dread disease, which comes like a bolt out of the blue to paralyze innocent and defenseless children, has so far baffled all the research, knowledge and skill of the medical fraternity.

Medical science has made great progress in learning how to treat and alleviate the suffering of those attacked by this physical enemy, but so far has been unable to determine its causes so that barriers can be erected to forestall its invasion of American homes.

But horrible as are the ravages of Infantile Paralysis; agonizing as it is for parents to be forced to stand by helplessly, powerless to do anything to prevent their children from being stricken and perhaps maimed for life by this terrible physical disease; there is an infinitely more appalling disease threatening their offspring. That menace is Paralysis of the Soul.

But, fortunately, unlike physical Infantile Paralysis, parents have at hand the means of protecting their children against the ravages of Infantile Paralysis of the Soul, because are known and protective measures against it are simple and easy of execution.

This Infantile Paralysis of the Soul is running rampant throughout the nation. We have the testimony of J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the FBI, and hundreds of judges to this effect.

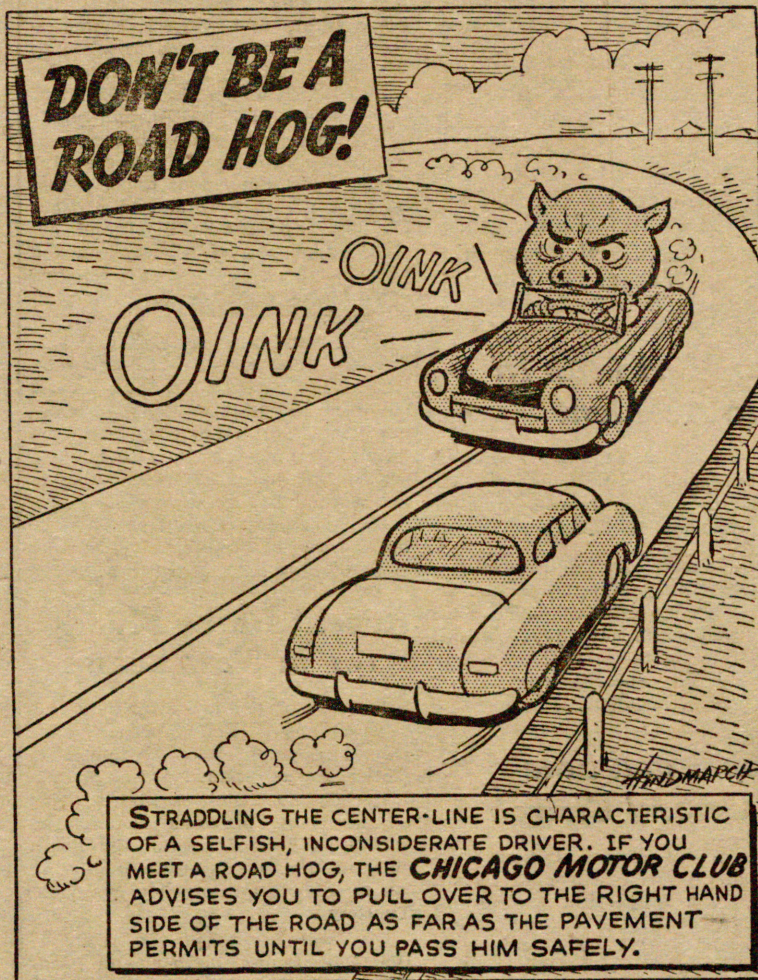

Over our radios we hear and in the newspapers we read much about "Juvenile Delinquency." But that is a misnomer; rightfully it should be called "Parental Delinquency" because most of the responsibility for the growing waywardness and crime among our young people can be attributed to parental neglect. It is idle for parents to offer the excuse that times have changed, and that we are now living in an age when parental control cannot be exercised as in bygone years, because next to duty to God, the obligation of parents is to their children.

Infantile Paralysis of the Soul is so prevalent in this nation today because parents are not equipping their children with the one groundwork upon which character is built—A Knowledge of God. Among other things, they are not sending their children to Sunday School regularly. Just as good crops cannot grow in a garden choked with weeds, a nation cannot survive unless it provides spiritual education and development for its children. American parents must recognize the important part religion should play in the development of their children. Otherwise our civilization is doomed.

The Laymen's National Committee, an organization of public spirited citizens of all faiths, sponsors National Sunday School Week each Spring. It has been responsible for reawakening millions of parents to their duty. Fifth Annual National Sunday School Week is to be observed this year in April.

The Laymen's National Committee deserves the backing of every American mother and father. They can do this by sending their children to Sunday School on Sunday. Thus they can discharge a major obligation to the children they children against the ravages of that most awful disease—brought into the world—and thus they can protect their Infantile Paralysis of the Soul.

UNDERWATER REPAIR JOB—The Grand Coulee Dam, on the Columbia River, undergoes a face-lifting with the aid of a special underwater chamber that permits workmen to labor 70 feet under water. The men are making repairs to the spillway bucket of the 22-million-ton dam. The underwater chamber is lowered over the bucket and water is pumped out so that workers can go below.

Give yourself an extra fifteen minutes these cold mornings, to cover motor mechanical difficulties and slower driving, the Chicago Motor Club advises. Cars parked outdoors are all subject to frozen fuel lines, weakened batteries and con-gealed lubricating oil. Clouded wind shields and rear windows make it essential for all drivers to keep in their lanes and, when in doubt, slow down.

in a closed, private garage can generate enough carbon monoxide gas to overcome the driver and cause death in a few minutes. Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, warned that the gas is still a deadly cold weather hazard. In amounts too slight to bring about headache or dizziness, it can still affect driving judgment.

More Efficient Crop Production Is Key to High Profits, Low Costs

FARMERS hear a good deal about the need for cutting costs these days. This is important, with production expenses high and most farm prices slumping.

Where to cut is a problem. It is false economy to reduce costs by cutting down on essential items such as fertilizer, good seed, feed supplements or good heifers.

Missouri University agricultural economists advise farmers not to be "penny wise and pound foolish" in the matter of buying fertilizer. They point out that money spent on plant food is an investment that pays out in a short time. It gets more efficient crop production. And efficient crop production that yields more bushels per acre is the key to cutting costs and building profits.

The Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out that fertilizer does its best job of boosting yields and reducing costs when it is teamed up with other good soil and crop management practices. The crop of such a program is a good rotation built around soil-improving deep-rooted legumes. Among other steps are well-adapted, good quality seed; good cultural methods; returning crop residues and barnyard manure to the soil; and keeping soil and water at home by conservation practices such as cover crops, contour cultivation and strip cropping where needed.

Teamwork of All Plant Nutrients Needed to Make High Crop Yields

PLANT nutrients have to "play ball" together to make high crop yields possible, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out. Each element has its work to do. Each reinforces the other. None can do the whole crop-feeding job by itself.

"All nutrients must be in balanced supply to give you top yields," the Committee says. "You can't increase crop production by adding only one plant food element when others are short. If your soil has plenty of phosphate and potash, but is short of nitrogen, you won't get good yields unless you supply that nitrogen. And the same is true of phosphate and potash, respectively."

"University of Illinois agronomists demonstrated that it takes the combined teamwork of lime, nitrogen, phosphate and potash to get maximum corn yields. They made their tests on nutrient-deficient soils at the Brownstown field.

"A plot that had no fertilizer yielded only 14.7 bushels of corn per acre. When nitrogen alone was added, the yield was 14.3 bushels. Adding phosphate brought the yield up to 24.8 bushels because the soil got some nitrogen from clovers in the rotation. When potash alone was added, the corn yield was 11.9 bushels per acre. Liming brought the yield up to 31 bushels. When lime, nitrogen, phosphate and potash all were added in balanced supply, the yield rose to 46 bushels per acre."

Cole Bros. Circus, Hopalong Cassidy Drawing Big Crowds

The big Cole Brothers Circus departed from its winter home at Miami, Fla. April 13 and the 1000 people with it and the big jungle family and scores of horses began a long trip northward to Chicago for the 1950 debut at the Stadium on Friday, April 21. The three long brilliantly painted circus trains were loaded to capacity and will not return home again until late in November. The Circus received a tremendous send off from its neighbors and residents at Miami and there were an estimated 1500 persons on hand as the harins pulled out to begin their long tour of nationwide cities.

The circus trains made several feed and water stops enroute to Chicago for the animals and residents in cities along the way were on hand to greet the colorful city on rails as it passed through their cities. The unloading operations started at once when they arrived in Chicago. The walking animal horses and ponies walkimals including elephants, camels, zebras, llamas and scores of beautiful horses and ponies will be walked to the Stadium. The tents housing the big menagerie, sideshow and dining dept. along with a score of smaller utility tents were pitched immediately in the Stadium parking lots while the Big Show itself was erected in the Stadium arena for dress rehearsals.

The big show, largest in Chicago yet, opened its 17 day engagement Friday night, April 21 and will extend twice daily through May 7 at 2:30 and 8:30 P.M. More than 100 of spangeland's foremost acts and many appearing in this country for the first time will highlight the Circus and Hopalong Cassidy will be the top attraction. Tickets are now on sale for all performances at the Stadium Box Offices.

ADVISE PLANT CORN MAY 23

Insect and crops specialists with the Illinois College of Agriculture and State Natural History Survey suggest May 23 as the date to shoot at in planting corn this spring.

That date falls within the planting period May 15 to 25 recommended for best corn borer control.

Entomologist George C. Decker urges farmers to avoid too early planting. Corn planted before the recommended dates serves as a breeding ground for large numbers of first-generation borers.

Agronomist George H. Dungan adds that May 23 is an ideal corn planting date from the standpoint of getting high yields.

Effective corn borer control and high yields are two good reasons for shooting at May 23 for planting corn.

Public Service Plans 3 Part Exhibit At 1950 Chicago Fair

One of the major exhibits at the Chicago Fair of 1950 will be undertaken by Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and three associated utilities serving Chicago and northern Illinois, it was announced by Britton I. Budd, Public Service president. The utilities which will sponsor jointly the exhibit with Public Service Company are Commonwealth Edison Company, Western United Gas and Electric Company and Illinois Northern Utilities Company.

The Utilities' presentation will consist of three integrated parts. The first will depict the growth, the present greatness and the potentialities of Chicago and northern Illinois. This will be handled primarily through a motion picture showing the advantages of living and doing business in this area. For this purpose the exhibit will utilize for a theater a building now on the lake-front grounds located just south of the 23rd street entrance.

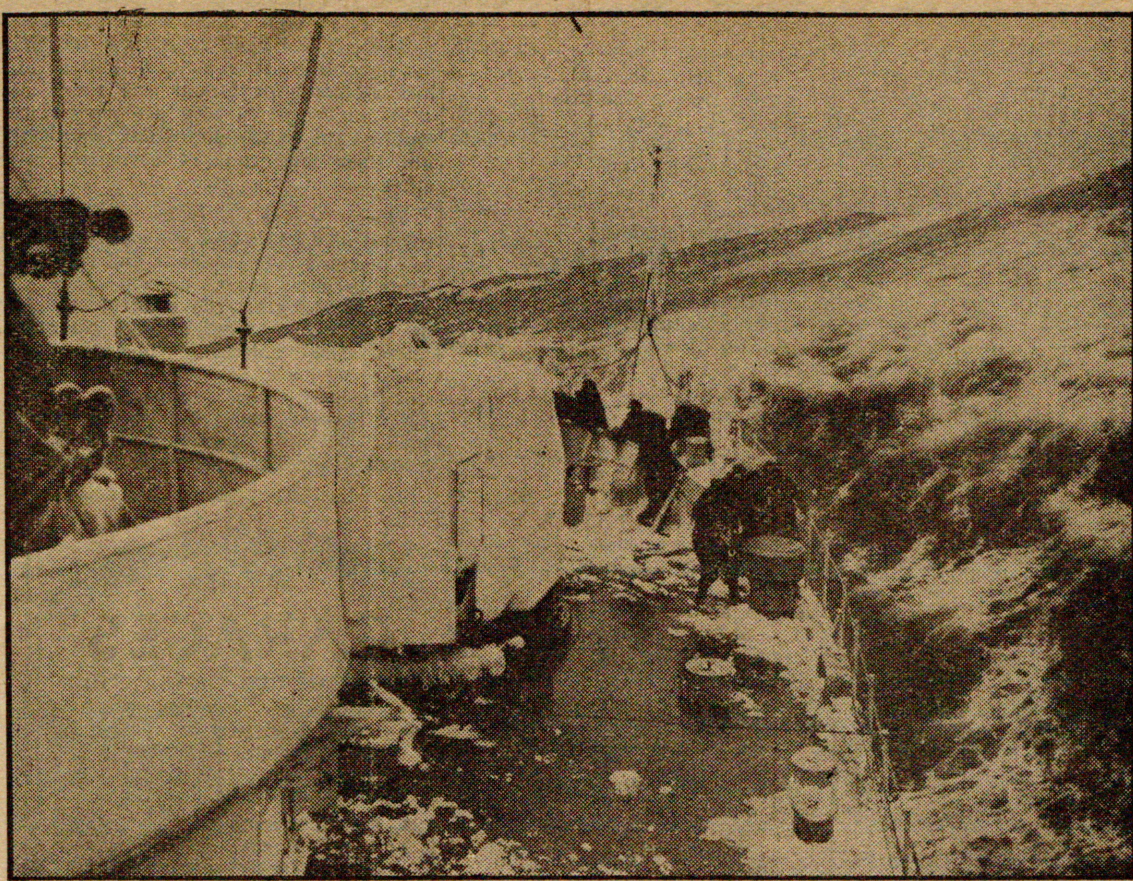

Electrical farming in northern Illinois will be the theme of the second section of the exhibit. A rural pavilion will be reconstructed to house this section. Under present plans it will include features as the brand new "Bale Gun", a contrivance for catapulting bales of hay from ground level into the barn loft. This device has been used experimentally and is now being prepared for marketing to the farmer.

The rural exhibit will be designed to interest city folk by highlighting the operations that are close to the urban dwellers, namely the production and handling of milk, eggs and poultry.

Installation demonstrating new equipment and uses of electricity on the farm will include a full size milk house, a miniature model cow barn, a full size poultry house and full size farm shop equipped with all the newest tools. There also will be a section illustrating irrigation.

The third section of the exhibit will be a House of Magic show. Some of the magic acts planned include supersonic stunts, photo-electric cell tricks, high frequency cooking, and uses of ultra violet (black light).

Also to be displayed in the electric theater will be the "world's largest electric bulb", developed by General Electric Company for war-

Explorer Scouts to Hold Own Camporee

K. S. Reading, General chairman of the Explorer Scout Rendezvous has just announced the chairmen of the various Rendezvous Committees. The date of the Rendezvous will be Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 19, 20 and 21. The men named are: K. S. Reading, Andrew Skoog, of Joliet, H. F. Craig, George Malek, Harold Neal, Clifford Sullivan all of Morris, Boryle Needham of Mokena; Milo Denick of Lockport; Ruben Powell, A. E. Belanger and Donald E. Berg of Kankakee.

This activity is the first of its type to be held in the Rainbow council. The Explorers, realizing the age difference in the Explorers and Scouts, planned not to participate in the forthcoming Camporee for Boy Scouts and to hold their own in the form of a "Rendezvous". It will feature advanced Scouting techniques in cooking, camping, contests and all forms of outdoor life. Contests will include rifle matches, archery matches, log rolling; canoe jousting; canoe races crew rowing, boat races, advance camping; advance cooking (this includes imu, reflector oven baking etc.) camp design and originality.

The most spectacular events are to be staged Sunday afternoon at which time the public is invited to attend. The reservation is located southwest of Morris.

Sunday morning all 200 of the expected Explorers will attend church services in Morris. Friday evening after camp has been set up there will be a fellowship campfire, Saturday night there will be the good old fashioned kraker-barrel, fun, frolic and swapping session.

Many of the Explorers are to attend the National Jamboree at Valley Forge. This Rendezvous will give those Explorers an excellent opportunity to practice for this once in a life time National event.

Awards will be given on a crew basis, every crew will have an opportunity to compete. The average size crew in a Post is figured at five Explorers. Their ages vary between 14 years and 18 years of age. There are twenty six Explorer Posts in the Council. All registered Explorers in these Posts are eligible to participate in this annual affair.

WARN VETS RECORD PAPERS

Half the war veterans of Illinois have never had their discharge papers recorded by their county recorder, the Illinois Veterans commission said today.

A spot-check throughout the state in offices of recorders revealed that an estimated 750,000 veterans of all wars have neglected to place their service records in the permanent and official files of their county.

In times of emergency a veteran or his dependents might face serious and oftentimes costly delays by not being able to secure a certified copy of a war record.

Certified or photostatic copies of separation papers are required in applying for all of the thousands of benefits provided by the state and federal government.

Original discharge papers should be placed in a safe place, preferably a fire-proof lockbox or bank safety deposit vault.

Service officers of the IVC will furnish assistance or information in connection with the recording of papers. State law provides that county recorders make a record of discharge papers without charge.

In some counties where a county recorder is not provided, the discharge papers can be recorded with the clerk of the Circuit court.

The Cook county veterans should contact the IVC office located at 9101-18 Commercial ave., Chicago, Ill.

SCRIPTURE: Amos (especially 4:4; 5:4-9, 14-15, 21-24). DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 13: 1-6.

When Worship Is Wicked

Lesson for April 30, 1950

DON'T THINK for a moment you could stand before some Recording Angel, with a memorandum in your hand showing the number of times you had attended church last year, and expect to see the angel break out into a beaming smile. "Fifty-two trips to church, 52 Good Deeds!" you would smile confidently at him. But he might freeze you with a look of complete contempt. "Fifty-two sins!" he might say. "Next case!"

Dr. Foreman

Can It Be a Sin To Go to Church?

Church-going is not necessarily a good act. Worship may be a quite wicked deed. Most people are slow getting that into their heads. They think that one act of worship on Sunday will somehow make up for a lot of bad behavior Monday through Saturday inclusive. But it is not so. The first person in history to see and to say that worship need not be good and can even be very bad, was none other than the prophet Amos.

The Israelites to whom he spoke were what we would call a church-going people; they were certainly temple-going. They followed the same ritual that was used in Jerusalem, they offered tithes and sacrifices, they kept the Sabbath, they attended the feasts and they observed the fasts and they sang the sacred hymns.

Yet Amos denounces the whole business, and condemns the worshippers as guilty sinners. What was wrong?

It Looked All Right

READERS of the Old Testament will remember that at Bethel, where the Israelites had one of their principal temples, golden calves had been set up to represent Jehovah their God. Now even though the people worshipped the true God, surely it was wrong to worship him in the form of an animal.

The form of their worship was all wrong, much further wrong than any form of Christian worship is today; yet Amos does not condemn them for worshipping in this mistaken way. Never once anywhere does he say a word about the golden calves. And if he does not say anything about a big thing like golden calves, still less does he have anything severe to say about less important departures from "good form" in worship.

He does not condemn the people for having the wrong hymn-book, or for not having a good choir. He hasn't a word of blame for non-attendance at worship; indeed he comes down hardest on those who do attend. Apparently church attendance in Bethel was excellent—that was not their trouble.

Again, he has no fault to find with the Israelites because their "services were uninteresting." Maybe they were; but on the other hand they were probably full of color and of pageantry, something to see as well as to hear. Yet Amos was not impressed. Further, he makes no complaint about poor sermons.

What Was the Trouble?

THE TROUBLE with those people, the thing that made their worship sinful, was not some defeat in the act of worship itself. There was nothing they could do, Amos can think of nothing they could do, to "improve the worship program" as we would say.

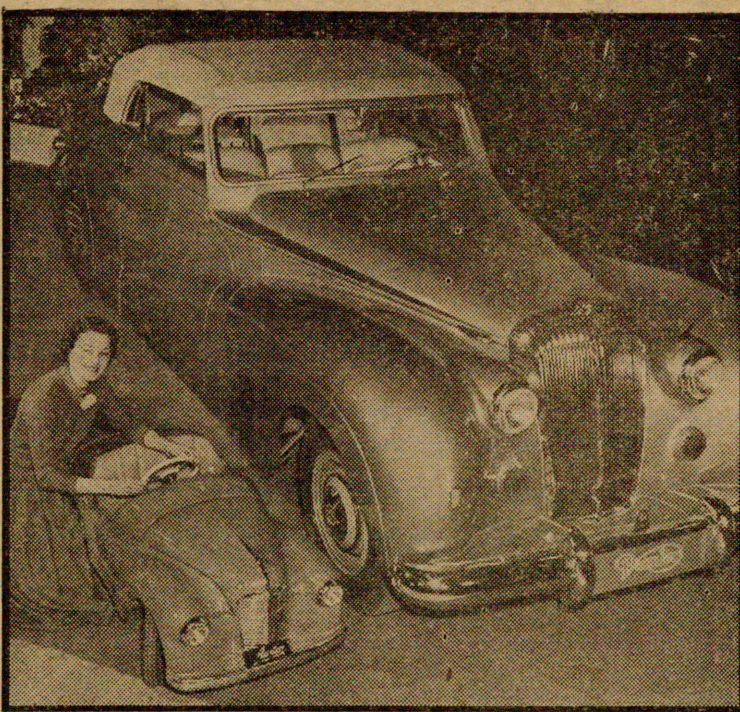

The trouble with those people was not in church at all. It was on the outside. Almost alone in his time, a voice in the wilderness—for no one paid him any real attention—Amos, speaking for God, told the Sabbath-keeping, church-going, hymn-singing, tithing citizens of Israel an important truth.

Religion, in short, cannot be shut off from the rest of life, as nearly everybody then thought and as too many people now think. Worship is simply no good if it is not lined up with a good life, a life good by intention and effort.

Jesus underscored this same point. If you are at the very altar of God, in the act of offering him a gift, and remember that your brother has something against you, go and make matters right with your brother before you offer the gift. See your brother before you see God! Or else God will not be at home to you.

April 30 Maturity Date for Farmers CCC Loans on Grains

Farmers who have small grain under loan or purchase agreement must make an early decision as to whether they desire to retain control of such commodities or dispose of them through the Commodity Credit Corporation. This reminder is issued by Conrad Borms, Chairman of the Will County PMA committee, 157 North Ottawa street, Joliet.

The Chairman explained that April 30 has been established as the maturity date in this State for CCC Government Loans on small grain. On this basis, producers with Wheat, Oats, Barley, Rye and Flaxseed under loan must make immediate arrangements either to pay off the loans and retain ownership of the grain or turn it over to Commodity Credit Corporation.

Farmers who have purchase agreements coverings such small grains must advise the County Committee by April 30 if they desire to sell to the Commodity Credit Corporation at the loan value. Similar action must be taken with respect to soybean Loans and purchase agreements by May 31.

Hudson Bay Adventures was shown before 1,000 trappers at the Trapper Festival, which was held at the town of Pas, 1500 miles north of Chicago. The trappers said it was the most honest and realistic film made of the Far North. One trapper traveled 300 miles to see it a second time. The part of the film that shows the skinning of a silver fox was said to be a classic.

New Teeth Decay-
Preventive Launched
At Peotone School

A demonstration on how dental decay in children can be reduced was launched at the Peotone school this week when a team from the Illinois State Department of Health set up its equipment and started applying sodium fluoride to the teeth of 442 children, announced Dr. L. L. Fetherree, Will County Health Officer.

The team's work is based on eight years of research, showing that an initial cleaning followed by a series of four applications of sodium fluoride, made at two to seven day intervals, will reduce expected new dental decay in groups of children by about 40 per cent.

The series of four applications, stated Dr. Fetherree, should be repeated at about three year intervals or as new teeth erupt. Ideally a child should receive the applications at about ages 3, 7, 10 and 13 but they will help all children regardless of age.

Children receiving applications of sodium fluoride also will have their teeth inspected by the dentist in charge of the team. If defects are found, the parents are notified that the child needs the attention of the family dentist.

While the sodium fluoride will reduce new decay an average of 40 per cent in groups of children, it is far from being a cure-all. Regular brushing of the teeth, less sweets, and periodic visits to the dentist are still essential if the child is to have the benefit of good dental health.

The health officer warned parents against attempting to apply sodium fluoride to the teeth of their children. The preventive must be applied according to the approved technique by a trained person.

Sodium fluoride applications to the teeth of children, Dr. Fetherree said, are endorsed by the American Dental Association, the Illinois State Department of Public Health, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the U. S. Public Health Services and the Illinois State Dental Society.

The need for work towards preventing dental decay becomes obvious when it is realized that, at the age of sixteen, three out of every four children have lost one or more permanent teeth, stated Dr. Fetherree. Dental decay, the most widespread of all the diseases of man is developing in children four to five times faster than it is being controlled.

Everyone is invited to attend the demonstration at any time to observe how it is conducted. The unit will be located at the Peotone school in Peotone April 17 to May 5.

John Joyce Heads New Cathedral Drive

The Most Reverend Martin D. McNamara, Bishop, Diocese of Joliet in Illinois today announced the appointment of John M. Joyce of Joliet, President of Joyce Seven Up Bottlers, Inc., and of Joyce Associates Inc., as the General Lay chairman for the Cathedral Fund Campaign to provide the funds needed for the erection of the new Cathedral of St. Raymond.

"I feel we are most fortunate in securing Mr. Joyce as the General Lay chairman for this project," Bishop McNamara stated in announcing the appointment. "This Cathedral project is a matter of far-reaching significance for the entire Diocese and the area as a whole. As plans for the Cathedral are developing they indicate that this will be an outstanding addition in every respect to the community and the Diocese."

"It may not be the largest building in the area but the preliminary plans clearly indicate it will be one of the most beautiful, symbolic and inspiring structures not only in Joliet but also throughout the entire section."

"To raise the funds needed for the erection of the Cathedral is a real challenge. We are most fortunate that a man of Mr. Joyce's eminence and success in the business world has agreed to accept this appointment as the General Lay chairman, and we are confident that under his devoted and inspiring leadership a large organization of volunteers will work together to achieve a great victory by raising the needed funds to make the erection of the Cathedral an early reality," Bishop McNamara said.

Mr. Joyce, in accepting the appointment said: "It is a very great honor and privilege to be asked to serve in this capacity. The building of the Cathedral for the newly established Diocese of Joliet is a matter of first importance not only to the Church but also to the entire area. To raise the necessary funds and thus make the Cathedral a reality will add great distinction to our community and section. It will be an everlasting and outstanding testimonial to the faith, hope, devotion and sacrifice of all those who, by their gifts, thoughts, prayers and efforts will make its accomplishment possible.

"A great deal of hard and sacrificial effort will be necessary to meet the challenge. I am confident that with the earnest help and generous support of everyone who is interested in the general welfare and development of our community, section and nation we can and will win a great victory which will be a practical evidence of our faith in God and in America."

Mr. Joyce is an active parishoner of St. Raymond's parish in Joliet. He has served in many projects in the community such as General Chairman of the Joliet-Will County Community Chest; State Chairman of the Illinois War Fund, Inc., and many other efforts during the years of his residence in Joliet. He is a director of the Union National Bank of Joliet and is chairman of the boards of Seven Up companies in New York, Chicago, Joliet and Madison, Wis. His home is at 627 Cornelia street, Joliet.

Livingston county, Illinois, was named for Erward Livingston, Secretary of State in the cabinet of President Andrew Jackson.

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were

REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1943, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT
Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation..."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

His Punch is His Signature

Was on the train up to Central City the other day and when the conductor came around, I asked him why their ticket punches make such odd-shaped holes in the ticket.

"Every conductor in the country has a different design for his punch," he tells me. "Some even show up a fellow's preferences. Now take mine. The hole it makes looks like a beer goblet."

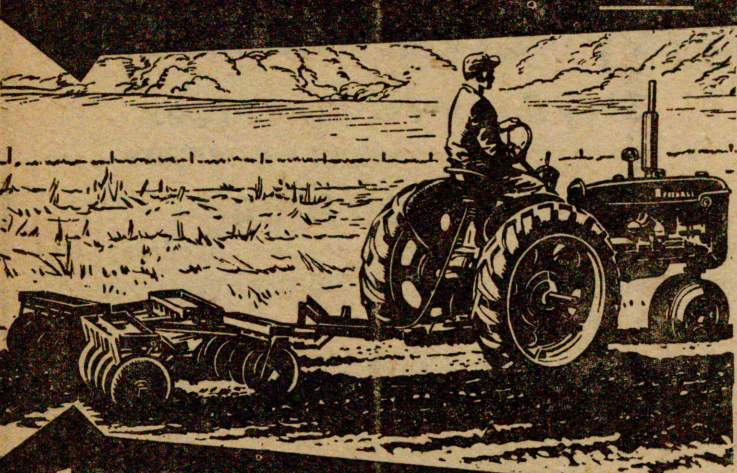

Sure enough! Then he went on to say that the punch is just like the conductor's signature. Makes it easy to trace tickets... to check up if something happens.

From where I sit, even though your ticket is punched differently from mine, it still gets you where you're going. Just like people with their opinions. You might like coffee, another person, tea—and I'll settle for a temperate glass of beer. But what does it matter, so long as we respect the right of the other to have tastes and opinions? We're all trying to go in the same direction — towards a friendlier, more pleasant world for all of us.
